

Carman tickets on-sale tonight, by mail or at The Armory or Majesty bookstores

Wow! We're kicking off JesusFest 2008 with a rare concert by global Christian artist Carman inside the Tolland High School Auditorium on Thursday, July 10 at 7 pm with the 70-person First Cathedral Gospel Choir! General admission tickets will be going on sale soon for just $15. Volunteers, sponsors and exhibitors are needed. See www.JesusFestCT.org for details.

We're "morphing" JesusFest from a country fair into an urban block party here in downtown Rockville! In future years, we hope to expand into Talcott Park, Central Park, several downtown churches, and nearby streets. However, we're going to walk before we run. This year's JesusFest will be held inside Union Congregational Church on Saturday, July 12 from 12 noon to 6 pm. We'll feature Scarlet Fade alternative/ indie music, East of Nashville blue grass and southern Gospel, Songs of Solomon reggae and Selfish Steam rock. Sponsorships are still available. See www.JesusFestCT.org for details.

TONIGHT'S FEATURED PERFORMERS:

Tom Brennan is founder of Amusing Grace Ministries in Setauket, Long Island, New York. A lifetime resident of the New York City metro area, Brennan is often called a "Christian Rodney Dangerfield." For many years, he worked in the high-pressure financial district on Manhattan, and he was in the city on September 11, 2001 when the World Trade Center was attacked and collapsed. In the midst of a world full of pain, stress, difficulty, and violence, Brennan seeks to bring clean Christian comedy and joy into people's lives. "For our own sanity," he says, "we need to maintain our God-given sense of humor. Laughter is still good medicine." Over the years, Brennan has performed locally at Jacob's Well, JesusFest in Vernon, Harvest Café Coffeehouse in Staffordville, and PraiseFest in Willimantic. Please welcome him to Rockville and enjoy his performance!
